OXBRIDGE MENTORS

FOR HEADS OF SIXTH FORM AND CAREERS LEADS

Oxbridge admissions support for your school

One free admissions talk for your students, then one-to-one help from tutors who have been through Oxford and Cambridge admissions themselves.

WHY SCHOOLS WORK WITH US

First-hand experience of a process unlike any other.

Many schools have limited access to specialist Oxbridge admissions guidance. Teachers do their best, but the Oxbridge process is unlike any other university application, and first-hand experience makes a real difference.

Our tutors have all been through the process themselves at Oxford or Cambridge. They bring practical, honest insight that helps students prepare properly rather than guessing at what is expected.

We work alongside your careers team. We start with one free talk, and you decide whether to go further.

- ✓ Oxford and Cambridge graduates. Every tutor is an Oxford or Cambridge graduate who has been through the admissions process.
- ✓ Matched to the course. Each student works with a tutor for the course they are applying to.
- ✓ Beside your careers team. We work alongside your head of sixth form and careers staff, not instead of them.
- ✓ Online now, in person later. Sessions run online now. In person starts once our insurance certificates are in place.

4

Sessions and feedback

Sessions run online, one to one. Each student gets written feedback, and your school gets a one-page summary.

For the free talk, we need from you

- A date and time that suits your timetable.
- A room with a screen, or your students joining by Zoom.
- Roughly how many students, and the courses they are thinking about.

After sessions, you receive

- Written feedback for each student after their sessions.
- A one-page summary for your school: who attended and the common themes, with no personal feedback in it.

WHO PAYS

You choose who pays

OPTION A

Your school pays us

Your school signs our order and terms for the services it chooses, and names the students taking part. Each student has their own sessions and feedback.

OPTION B

Each family pays us directly

Your school recommends us, and each family books and pays us directly at the rate agreed for your school. No money passes between your school and us.

We never pay a fee, commission or gift to a school, a governor or a member of staff.

State schools pay the same as other schools, and we agree each school's arrangement case by case.

SAFEGUARDING AND PRACTICALITIES

What schools ask us first

- ✓ DBS checks. Any tutor who teaches a student under 16, teaches in person or works through a school partnership has a DBS check, or an overseas police certificate, on our records before those lessons start.
- ✓ Safeguarding policy. Our policy is published at oxbridgementors.co.uk/safeguarding. Our Designated Safeguarding Lead is Jason Pahatouridis.
- ✓ Online now, in person later. All sessions run online now. In person starts once our insurance certificates are in place.
- ✓ Your staff stay in charge. Your school keeps predicted grades, references and pastoral care. We add course-specific preparation for applications, admissions tests and interviews.
- ✓ Personal data. We follow UK GDPR. Our privacy policy is published at oxbridgementors.co.uk/privacy.

COMMON QUESTIONS FROM SCHOOLS

Questions we are often asked

How much does it cost?

The first 60-minute online admissions talk is free. After that, schools buy our normal services, and we set out the price in a proposal for your school.

Who pays: the school or families?

You choose. Your school pays us, or each family pays us directly. We never pay a fee, commission or gift to a school or its staff.

Can you deliver sessions remotely?

Yes. All sessions run online now. In person starts once our insurance certificates are in place.

How many students can you work with at once?

The free talk can be for a whole year group. Mock interviews and support are one to one, so we plan the number of tutors around your students.

Do state schools pay less?

State schools pay the same as other schools, and we agree each school's arrangement case by case. The free talk is open to every school.

Do you replace our careers team?

No. We work alongside your head of sixth form and careers staff, not instead of them.
